June, 1980

Dear Medical Librarian:

Since joining Pergamon Press, I have become very impressed with the high quality of Pergamon's books, journals and microform publications. In November of 1979, for example, Pergamon published the first of the 12 Volume ADVANCES IN MEDICAL ONCOLOGY, RESEARCH AND EDUCATION. Recent new titles include SPINAL CORD INJURIES; DISASTERS; HOSPITAL PLANNING; and MARIHUANA: BIOLOGICAL EFFECTS, which presents astonishing new scientific research on sustained use of marihuana.

Pergamon journals in medicine include such outstanding titles as Computerized Tomography; Leukemia Research; Clinical and Investigative Medicine; Journal of Chronic Diseases; and Neuropharmacology. Microform editions of the Cumulative Index Medicus and New England Journal of Medicine are also important micropublications of Pergamon Press.

Equally impressive to me are the numerous services Pergamon offers to librarians. One such service is the distribution of the well-known Eden Press medical publications, including the Eden Medical Research Review Series.

I invite you to stop by our Booth to see our publications on display and visit with Bob Miranda, Senior Vice President Journals, Otto Rapp, Senior Vice President Sales and me, to discuss the Pergamon services available to your library.

Sincerely,

William A. Snyder
Vice President and Director, Marketing

RULES FOR MLA BUSINESS MEETINGS

Excerpted from the Bylaws, June 1976.

Article II: Meetings

Section 5. Quorum

A quorum of five per cent of the voting members shall be required for the transaction of business. For purposes of determining a quorum, a person eligible to cast two votes shall be counted as two voting members.

Section 6. Voting

To facilitate the counting of votes, the Executive Director shall provide easily seen voter identification to all eligible voters attending the meeting.

Section 7. Order of Business

The order of business at the business meetings of the Annual Meeting shall be at the discretion of the presiding officer, but the business shall include:

Approval of the minutes of the Annual Meeting and of any special meetings of the membership held in the preceding year, but not necessarily of earlier meetings of the current session.

Reception of the reports of the Board of Directors, the Executive Director, the several other appointed officers, and the several committees and representatives.

Action on amendments to the Bylaws (if notice thereof has been given).

Announcement of the election of Officers and the Nominating Committee.

New business.

Section 8. Resolutions

A voting member may offer at the Annual Meeting a complex motion introducing a new item of business only if written copies have been distributed at or before the meeting to each voting member present or by the unanimous consent of voting members present.

Article XI. Parliamentary Authority

Section 1. Rules

The rules contained in the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised shall govern the Association in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with these Bylaws and any special rules of order the Association may adopt.

From Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised (1970):

Before a member . . . can make a motion or speak in debate . . . he must obtain the floor; that is, he must be recognized by the chair as having the exclusive right to be heard at that time. (p. 23) [At MLA Business Meetings, this is done by first going to the nearest microphone.]

When the names of the members are not generally known, a person addressing the chair to claim the floor should state his name and any necessary identification . . . , as [John Doe, Oxbridge University Medical Library] . (p. 24)

Each member has the right to speak twice on the same question on the same day, but cannot make a second speech on the same question so long as any member who has not spoken on that question desires the floor. (p. 35)

A member who has spoken twice on a particular question on the same day has exhausted his right to debate that question for that day. (p. 35)

Without the permission of the assembly, no one can speak longer than . . . ten minutes. (p. 35)

Debate must be confined to the merits of the pending question. (p. 35)

Speakers must address their remarks to the chair, maintain a courteous tone, and — especially in reference to any divergence of opinion — should avoid injecting a personal note into debate. (p. 35)

Speakers should refer to officers only by title, and should avoid the mention of other members names as much as possible. (p. 35)

If at any time the presiding officer rises to . . . speak within his privilege, any member who is speaking should be seated (or should step back slightly [from the] microphone . . .) until the presiding officer has finished. (p. 333)

Parliamentary Know-How

To introduce business: move to main motion.

To approve action: move to accept, adopt or ratify.

To modify or change: move to amend or refer to a committee.

To defer action: move to postpone to a definite time, refer to a committee or lay on table.

To limit discussion: move to limit debate.

To stop discussion: move the previous question.

To determine correctness of an announced voice vote: move for division of the assembly.

To suppress a question: object to consideration, move to postpone indefinitely, or lay on table.

To object to decision of the chair: move an appeal from the decision.

To make a request: call for point of information, rise to parliamentary inquiry, or raise question of privileges.

A State of the Art in the Field of Metastasis

G. K. Hall Medical Publishers presents a landmark four-volume series on metastasis — the most complete in-depth study compiled on the subject to date. Each volume is devoted entirely to metastasis in one site from a multidisciplinary viewpoint, and examines its mechanics, diagnosis, and treatment. The originators of the series, Leonard Weiss, Sc.D., M.D., Ph.D., and Harvey A. Gilbert, M.D., are joined by eminent co-editors in subsequent volumes.

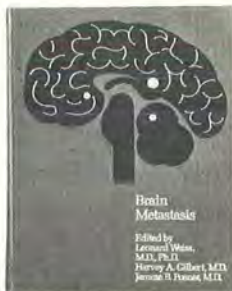

Pulmonary Metastasis presents the proceedings of a symposium on multidisciplinary aspects of lung cancer held in 1977 at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y. Contents include: Factors Leading to the Arrest of Cancer Cells in the Lungs; The Heterogeneity of Metastatic Neoplasms; Metastatic Patterns in Childhood Tumors; Pulmonary Metastases in Endometrial Carcinoma; Radiological Assessment of Pulmonary Metastasis; and Differential Response of Primary and Secondary Tumors to Chemotherapy.

1978 464 pp. illustrated ISBN 0-8161-2107-9 $34.50

Brain Metastasis, co-edited by Jerome Posner, presents the expanded record of a workshop on the subject held at the Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in 1978. Experts in the field bring together related critical laboratory and clinical experience. Contents include: The Cell Periphery and Metastasis; Cascade Processes: Implications for Research and Clinical Management; Positron Emission Tomography; Radiotherapy of Brain Metastases; and Steroids in the Treatment of Brain Metases.

1979 414 pp. ISBN 0-8161-2119-2 $48.50

Forthcoming in the Series: Lymphatic System Metastasis, co-edited by Samuel Ballon, M.D.; Bone Metastasis, co-edited by D.C.G. Monsen, M.D.

We Have That "Something Extra"

Our name is CANCERLINE, and our three data bases together provide the world's most comprehensive collection of cancer research information.

Our literature data base, called CANCERLIT, has an abstract for every citation—some 200,000 in all—selected from more than 3,000 journals worldwide, and it's updated monthly. Entries since January 1980 are indexed with MeSH terms.

Our research projects data base, called CANCERPROJ, lists 20,000 current cancer research projects being conducted in the U.S. and abroad. Updates are made quarterly.

Our data base of clinical protocols is called CLINPROT. It has 2,000 summaries of experimental protocols for the treatment of all forms of cancer. New protocols are added every three months.

Our "something extra" gives you added dimensions in responding to the requests of cancer specialists, whether they are clinicians or basic researchers.

Try us the next time you need cancer information.

CANCERLINE is sponsored by the International Cancer Research Data Bank, a program of the National Cancer Institute.

The literature of medical librarianship today represents an accretive culmination of advances. This volume is intended to offer practicing medical librarians and library school students, a handy and concise anthology of some of the significant writings of those who established the foundations upon which subsequent progress is made. Included are examples of fine papers—past and present. Also included are several papers that relate to librarianship by physicians, like Osler and Billings.
